 BOND UNIVERSITY	STUDENT GRIEVANCE MANAGEMENT POLICY
Policy Owner	Chief Integrity Officer
Contact Officer	Chief Integrity Officer
Endorsement Authority	University Registrar
Date of Next Review	November 2026

1. PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

Bond University is committed to a culture of continuous improvement in the provision of quality services to the University community. Grievances on the part of students are regarded as an opportunity for the University to identify and address inconsistencies between the standard of service promised and/or provided, and student expectations. This then provides a basis for instigating preventative strategies to reduce recurrence and deliver targeted continuous improvement.

The objectives of this Policy are to:

- promote an effective student grievance management framework for the investigation and resolution of student grievances;
- outline the expectations and responsibilities of staff and students engaged in the University's student grievance resolution processes; and
- provide advice to students on external grievance resolution processes.

2. AUDIENCE AND APPLICATION

For the purposes of this Policy, a Grievance is a matter raised by a Student who considers that they have been negatively impacted because of an action, determination or omission within the control or responsibility of the University. Student grievances include:

- reviews and appeals – requests for review or appeal of a decision made by the University affecting the student directly; and
- complaints – expressions of dissatisfaction about something the University has done or not done, or about the standard of service provided by or on behalf of the University.

The student grievance management framework established by this Policy applies to all grievances covered by the explanation above, subject to the clarifications that follow.

When enrolment is suspended or cancelled by the University, a student may access the grievance management process to raise a grievance about the decision to suspend or cancel their enrolment, except in relation to an Executive Suspension determined by the Vice Chancellor or University Registrar.

A student who wishes to raise a grievance relating to the conduct of research at the University, including a grievance about adverse findings in respect of the student's own research activities, should refer to the Research Misconduct Policy in the first instance.

A student who undertakes cross-institutional study or an exchange program at another university is considered a student of the host institution for matters directly relating to their studies at that institution.

Former students and applicants for admission to a program of study may raise a grievance where this is consistent with Schedule B and the applicable time limits set out in the Student Review and Appeals Procedure or the Complaints and Feedback Procedure.

The University may decline to investigate a grievance where another avenue is considered more appropriate or the matter is considered unrelated to the University. Where this occurs, the student who raised the matter will be referred to a suitable grievance resolution pathway.

4. POLICY STATEMENT

4.1. Policy Principles

The University aims to maintain a student grievance management process that:

- is accessible, impartial and underpinned by the principles of Procedural Fairness;
- allows for the investigation and resolution of student grievances in an equitable, consistent, transparent and timely manner;
- promotes an environment where everyone is treated fairly and with respect, and free from racism and unlawful discrimination in accordance with the University's Anti-discrimination Policy.
- encourages, where possible, informal resolution of concerns;
- addresses concerns as close to the source of student dissatisfaction as possible;
- ensures, so far as is practicable, the privacy and confidentiality of the parties involved;
- encourages the maintenance of harmonious relationships and ensures grievances are resolved without victimisation or intimidation of anyone connected with the grievance;
- provides support and assistance to students involved in the process, including supporting their capacity for self-advocacy;
- explains decisions clearly and in writing, and ensures that any further steps the student may take in the process are conveyed with the decision; and
- includes provision for review by an appropriate external party if internal processes fail to resolve a grievance.

As outlined in Schedule A, depending on the nature of a grievance, the University will endeavour to resolve it by using one of the following procedures:

- Student Review and Appeals Procedure; or
- Complaints and Feedback Procedure.

If a student raises a grievance in the form of a review or appeal which also includes a separate grievance that falls under the scope of the Complaints and Feedback Procedure, the review or appeal decision maker may not be in a position to respond to all aspects of the grievance. In such instances, the grievances may be separated so that the review or appeal is managed under the Student Review and Appeals Procedure and the separate complaint is managed under the Complaints and Feedback Procedure.

4.2. Support for Students

It is recognised that students accessing this Policy may require personal support. Bond University offers advice and support tailored to individual student needs. Students are encouraged to contact the Student Success &

Wellbeing Team for assistance in identifying the advice and support required. A comprehensive list of available services can be accessed here.

A student may seek the assistance of the Student Advocacy services provided by the Bond University Student Association (BUSA) to navigate any stage of the University's grievance management process and may be accompanied by a Student Advocate or other support person (not acting as legal counsel or solicitor) at any stage of the process.

4.3. Time Limits

Time limits for the submission of a grievance, and for the consideration and resolution of a grievance by the University, are set out in the Student Review and Appeals Procedure or the Complaints and Feedback Procedure, depending on the nature of the grievance.

4.4. Informal Resolution

In most instances, it is expected that a student will initially attempt to resolve an issue informally by directly approaching the person or service area concerned. Informal resolution strategies also include:

- discussing the matter with a relevant staff member, including the applicable Student Affairs & Service Quality Manager or Associate Dean (Student Affairs & Service Quality), or equivalent;
- seeking clarification on the matter from a relevant staff member to understand the decision; and/or
- requesting a relevant staff member to raise the matter with the individual, where applicable.

If the issue cannot be resolved informally and the student wishes to pursue formal resolution, a formal grievance may be lodged.

4.5. Review and Appeals

The categories of grievance considered under the Student Review and Appeals Procedure are set out in Schedule B1 and relate to:

- a review of, or appeal against, an administrative decision (the application of policy and procedure) of the University in relation to a student;
- a review of, or appeal against, an academic decision (the exercise of academic judgement) of the University in relation to a student's studies; and/or
- an appeal against a finding of, and/or the penalty for, misconduct by a student.

The process for pursuing a review or appeal is governed by the Student Review and Appeals Procedure and the decision makers for each step in the process are identified in Schedule B1.

The effect of Schedule B1 is to provide a comprehensive listing of the University decisions that are subject to review and/or appeal. Students are required to provide appropriate grounds and factual evidence in support of a request for a review or lodgement of an appeal. The University will not set aside a decision on the basis that the student disagrees with it.

4.5.1. Review of Decisions

If a matter cannot be resolved informally, the student may request a review of the decision. A review is a written application seeking reconsideration of an initial decision affecting a student. The review is conducted by a senior officer of the University who is a designated decision maker. A request for a review may be upheld or dismissed in part or in whole, or a new determination made.

4.5.2. Appeals

Following the outcome of a review or a finding of misconduct, the student may be eligible to appeal that decision to the designated decision maker for the appeal provided they meet the applicable grounds for appeal. An appeal is a written application seeking to have a decision affecting a student investigated. An appeal may be upheld or dismissed in part or in whole, or a new determination made.

An appeal may only be submitted by a student where they can demonstrate at least one of the following grounds:

- new and relevant material exists that was not reasonably available to the student before the decision was made and that would have a significant impact on the decision;
- an order or penalty imposed as a consequence of a finding of misconduct was excessive or inappropriate taking into account all the circumstances of the case;
- there was a misapplication of policy or procedure resulting in disadvantage to the student;
- there was bias or a Conflict of Interest on the part of the decision maker; or
- in the case of Exclusion for unsatisfactory academic progress, there were extenuating circumstances that prevented the student from completing their studies successfully.

If a student has submitted an appeal relating to exclusion for unsatisfactory academic performance, they will be entitled to remain enrolled in their program of study while their appeal is under consideration by the University. This is not the case where a student has submitted an appeal relating to Suspension or expulsion from the University.

4.6. Complaints

Indicative categories of grievance considered under the Complaints and Feedback Procedure are set out in Schedule B2 and relate to:

- a problem or concern raised by a student regarding their treatment as a student; and/or
- the quality or delivery of a service or advice provided by the University.

The process for pursuing a complaint is governed by the Complaints and Feedback Procedure and the decision makers for each step in the process are identified in Schedule B2.

Where a complaint raises issues of potential misconduct by staff or students, the matter will be dealt with under the relevant Code of Conduct policy and procedure.

The University's approach to addressing anonymous complaints is set out in the Complaints and Feedback Procedure.

4.7. Good Faith

The University expects that all parties involved in a grievance will engage in good faith with the grievance resolution process.

The University does not tolerate victimisation and may take disciplinary action against a student or staff member who is found to have victimised another student or staff member for their participation in (or association with) raising, supporting or resolving a grievance.

5. UNIVERSITY APPEALS COMMITTEE

The University Appeals Committee has delegated responsibility to make final determinations on student appeals within its remit. The terms of reference and membership provisions of this Committee are set out in Schedule C.

6. EXTERNAL REVIEW

A student who considers that their grievance has not been addressed following receipt of a response to a formal, internal review and/or appeal may wish to pursue an external review. In such circumstances, international students typically proceed to the Commonwealth Ombudsman and domestic students to the Student Ombudsman, unless another external agency is more appropriate.

While a student may refer a grievance to an external agency at any stage, external agencies generally require that all internal resolution options are exhausted prior to consideration by their office.

The process for seeking external review of a grievance is governed by the Student External Review Procedure.

7. MONITORING AND ASSURANCE

The University Registrar will monitor the occurrence and nature of formal grievances received to identify if systemic issues exist across the University. The Office of Integrity will produce an annual report, to be submitted to Council via the University Management Committee and Academic Senate, which analyses relevant data and trends (including systemic issues) and identifies where grievance outcomes have resulted in changes to policy or procedure.

8. RECORD KEEPING

The University manages grievances through a centralised Grievance Management System. Files relating to grievances are retained and disposed of pursuant to University and statutory requirements.

The University maintains confidentiality in the management of student grievances in accordance with the Privacy Policy.

9. DEFINITIONS, TERMS, ACRONYMS

Business days	Days falling from Monday to Friday from 8:30am to 5:00pm excluding public holidays.
Conflict of interest	Knowledge of or connection with the subject matter of a grievance or the student/s involved such that a decision maker (or member thereof) cannot objectively consider the evidence and/or, when viewed from the perspective of an objective observer, could create a perception of bias on their part towards or against the student/s involved. In such cases, the decision maker (or member thereof) should voluntarily step aside. A substantial association (positive or negative, current, or previous) with the relevant student/s is a strong indicator of conflict of interest but this does not extend simply to the teaching of or familiarity with the student/s in isolation.

Decision maker	An Officer or body of the University listed in Schedule B of this Policy.
Exclusion	When a student is deemed ineligible to continue studying in an academic program at the University on the basis of their unsatisfactory academic progress. A student is excluded from a specific program, not from a Faculty/UAU or the University as a whole.
Executive suspension	Provisional debarment of a student from enrolment and/or attendance at the University as determined by the Vice Chancellor or University Registrar. There is no avenue within the University for review or appeal of an executive suspension.
Expulsion	Permanent debarment of a student from the University. An expelled student may not attend classes or participate in any University activity on or off campus.
Faculty	Bond Business School, Faculty of Health Sciences & Medicine, Faculty of Law, and Faculty of Society & Design (each of which is headed by an Executive Dean).
Grievance	A matter raised by a student who considers that they have been negatively impacted because of an action, determination or omission within the control or responsibility of the University.
Officer	Any employee of the University.
Procedural fairness	Procedural fairness is concerned with the process used in decision making, rather than the outcome of a decision. It requires that the person who might be adversely affected by a decision should be notified of the key issues and given a reasonable opportunity to respond, and the decision maker should be impartial and make evidence-based findings.
Professorial standing	The status of full or associate professor in relation to an academic staff member.
Student	A current, former or prospective student of Bond University, including a person who is on a leave of absence from their studies or has been excluded from a Bond University program for unsatisfactory academic progress.
Suspension	Temporary debarment of a student from the University. A suspended student may not attend classes or participate in any University activity on or off campus.
University Academic Unit (UAU)	Bond University College (headed by the Director) and Transformation CoLab (headed by the Assistant Provost).

UNIVERSITY APPEALS COMMITTEE TERMS OF REFERENCE & Membership Provisions

Reporting Relationship

University Appeals Committee reports to the Vice Chancellor. The Committee may make recommendations to Academic Senate or University Management Committee on matters within its terms of reference.

Terms of Reference

University Appeals Committee has delegated responsibility to make final determinations on student appeals.

University Appeals Committee has responsibility for:

- Considering and determining appeals in relation to academic exclusion from a program at the University;
- Considering and determining appeals in relation to academic matters within the remit of the Committee;
- Considering and determining appeals against all findings of student misconduct and/or applied orders and penalties; and
- Identifying systemic issues related to policies, procedures, practices or systems within its sphere of responsibility and making recommendations to Academic Senate or University Management Committee on opportunities for improvement.

There is no other avenue of appeal within the University.

Membership

Core members

Chair

- Academic staff member of professorial standing appointed by the Vice Chancellor

Deputy Chair

- Deputy Chair, Academic Senate

Student Members

- Two students appointed by the Vice Chancellor after consultation with the Executive Committee of the Bond University Student Association, from whom one will be selected for each meeting

Co-opted members

Staff Members

- Eight academic staff members of professorial standing (two per Faculty appointed by the relevant Executive Dean), from whom up to two will be selected for meetings involving appeals other than misconduct appeals from the University Disciplinary Board
- Two senior staff members appointed by the Vice Chancellor, from whom one will be selected for meetings involving misconduct appeals from the University Disciplinary Board and from whom one may be selected for meetings involving other appeals

Ex Officio

- Director, Learning & Teaching, who will be preferred for selection for meetings involving academic misconduct appeals from the University Disciplinary Board
- Vice President, Operations, who will be preferred for selection for meetings involving general misconduct appeals from the University Disciplinary Board

Meetings

University Appeals Committee will meet as required. Meetings will be held in person or online at the discretion of the Chair.

The Chair is responsible for convening the Committee for each meeting, taking into consideration the type of appeal as outlined in the following table. Typically the Committee will be constituted by a maximum of five members per meeting, comprising a mix of Core and Co-opted members.

Core members	Type of appeal	Co-opted members
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Chair• Deputy Chair• One student member	All appeals except misconduct appeals from University Disciplinary Board	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Two staff members, one of whom may be a senior staff member appointed by the Vice Chancellor
	Misconduct appeals from University Disciplinary Board	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• One senior staff member appointed by the Vice Chancellor• One ex officio member

No member may participate who has previously been involved as a decision maker in the case that is being appealed or has any other conflict of interest.

The appellant student may be accompanied by another person (not acting as legal counsel or solicitor), whose primary role is to provide the student with moral support.

Where the appellant is a student who identifies as a member of a diverse cohort which is not represented among the Committee's membership, the Chair will invite an appropriate representative to join the Committee for the relevant meeting if the appellant requests and consents to this in writing.

A quorum for the meeting is three and must include one student representative. However, a meeting will be considered quorate without a student representative if the appellant requests and consents to this in writing.

If, in a particular appeal case, a quorum for a meeting cannot be obtained from the pool of members, the Vice Chancellor may appoint another person to join the Committee for the purposes of considering and determining that appeal.

In the absence of the Chair, the Deputy Chair will act as chairperson. In the absence of both the Chair and Deputy Chair, the Vice Chancellor may appoint another member of the Committee, including a replacement member, to act as chairperson.

Protocols

The Committee will follow the protocols outlined in the Bond University Academic Senate Committee Protocols as appropriate.
