BondX

Entrepreneurship and Innovation

BondX is Bond University's national platform for entrepreneurship, innovation, and industry collaboration. It brings together founders, investors, researchers, students, and business leaders for a one-day program of keynote talks, panel discussions and start-up showcases.

From AI and climate tech to healthcare, sports innovation, and capital markets, BondX explores the ideas, technologies, and individuals shaping the future of business and society.

OUR MISSION

BondX exists to spark entrepreneurial thinking, strengthen community ties, and spotlight innovation across disciplines.

The event is designed to:

- Showcase the impact of innovation across key sectors such as health, technology, investment, and sport
- Facilitate connections within the business ecosystem to foster new collaborations and shared growth
- Inspire students to explore entrepreneurship by connecting them with real-world insight and lived experience
- Strengthen the relationship between Bond University and the broader innovation, research, and business community

Entrepreneurship is in Bond's DNA, and BondX drives this forward through the Transformer program, the University's hub for entrepreneurial thinking. by:

- Raising awareness of Transformer opportunities across all areas of study
- Promoting hands-on, experiential learning grounded in real-world challenges
- Cultivating a mindset of resilience, creativity, and opportunity
- Building lasting peer and industry networks that extend beyond the classroom
- Encouraging active participation in incubators, accelerators, and venture pathways
